

Backpropagation in Deep Neural Networks

Backpropagation is the primary algorithm used to train artificial neural networks. It computes the gradient of the loss function with respect to each weight by applying the chain rule of calculus in reverse order through the computational graph.